EXHIBIT A

Petitioner, Gregory M. Parker, Inc., a Georgia corporation authorized to transact business in South Carolina, operates convenience stores in Georgia and South Carolina under the name “Parker’s” (“Parker’s”). Parker’s obtains the electricity needed to operate several of the Parker’s stores in South Carolina from the defendant, South Carolina Electric & Gas (“SCE&G”). Parker’s opened its first store with service provided from SCE&G on December 24, 2008, which store is located at 9227 Evan Way, Bluffton, SC 29910 (“Store 32”). Prior to obtaining the service, SCE&G assigned a representative to Parker’s to assist it in obtaining the necessary electricity. From that time forward, including the present, Parker’s has had an SCE&G representative assisting Parker’s obtain electricity from SCE&G. Throughout the duration of that time, Parker’s believed this representative was providing assistance with obtaining electricity, including, but not limited to, getting the most-economical rates.

With the help and advice of the SCE&G representative, Parker’s chose Rate 20 for Store 32 and executed a General Service Agreement for service on Rate 20, effective as of September 2, 2010. A copy of the General Service Agreement for Store 32 is attached hereto as “Attachment 1” and incorporated herein by this reference.

Then, Parker’s obtained service for its second store in South Carolina from SCE&G on November 5, 2010, which is located at 469 Buckwalter Parkway, Bluffton, SC 29910 (“Store 33”). With the help and advice of the SCE&G representative, Parker’s executed a General Service Agreement for service at Store 33 on the same chosen rate of Rate 20, effective as of March 21, 2011. A copy of the General Service Agreement for Store 33 is attached hereto as “Attachment 2” and incorporated herein by this reference.

After opening and obtaining electrical service for Stores 32 and 33, Parker’s opened the following stores, all while having an SCE&G representative assigned to Parker’s:

- On November 15, 2013, 6200 Jennifer Court, Bluffton, SC 29910 (“Store 43”);
- On June 19, 2014, 1705 Ribaut Road, Beaufort, SC 29935 (“Store 48”);
- On December 4, 2015, 16319 Whyte Hardee Blvd., Hardeeville, SC 29927 (“Store 54”);
- On March 14, 2016, 7021 N. Okatie Hwy, Ridgeland, SC 29936 (“Store 55”);
- On July 21, 2016, 12 Savannah Hwy, Beaufort, SC 29906 (“Store 58”); and
- On September 23, 2016, 3462 Trask Pkwy, Beaufort, SC 29906 (“Store 59”).

These Parker's stores share a very similar electrical demand to the first two stores opened in South Carolina, Stores 32 and 33, and electric service was obtained from SCE&G for them. When these stores were opened and service was obtained from SCE&G, Parker's relied upon SCE&G to continue to provide the same assistance that it has provided for the first two stores, including ensuring Parker's was on the most-economical rate.

In addition to Parker's reliance upon SCE&G to ensure Parker's was put on the correct rate, Parker's believed that these stores (Stores 43, 48, 54, 55, 58 and 59) were put on the same rate that Parker's, in conjunction with the SCE&G assigned representative to assist, had already chosen and established to be its most-economical rate. For these stores, it is believed that no General Service Agreements were utilized for the electric service provided by SCE&G. Instead, it is believed that the only documents used to commence service for any of them were Applications for Service for Stores 58 and 59. Copies of the Applications for Service for Stores 58 and 59 are attached hereto as "Attachment 3" and incorporated herein by this reference. Those applications provide that Parker's has 'Other Active Accounts,' but have no place to request a rate or to change a rate. Moreover, it does not contain a warning that a default rate, rather than a prior chosen rate, would be used. Therefore, these stores should have been put on the same rate that Parker's, in conjunction with the SCE&G assigned representative to assist, had already chosen, which was Rate 20. Certainly since it was already established by SCE&G to be its most-economical rate. However, that is not what happened. On the contrary, unbeknownst to Parker's, SCE&G disregarded Parker's chosen rate, SCE&G's own Terms of Service and South Carolina law and put these stores on Rate 9 without notice, warning or explanation.

In addition to the misleading application, Parker's believed it was already obtaining assistance from SCE&G in ensuring Parker's was receiving the best rate. That is because Parker's had a representative assigned to it, whom Parker's believed was assisting Parker's. SCE&G had already established that relationship and belief in Parker's by assisting Parker's get on the correct rate for the first of these stores, Stores 32 and 33. If a contract were needed to do that, Parker's relied upon SCE&G to inform Parker's that such would be needed, as had happened for Stores 32 and 33. SCE&G did not. Instead, they built a relationship of trust and reliance, and then stopped providing the level of assistance that Parker's believed it was getting.

It was not until May of 2017 when Parker's did a thorough analysis of its operations and structure, including an analysis of the provision and cost of the electric service provided to its convenience stores in South Carolina, that Parker's discovered this wrong. As a result of that analysis, Parker's discovered a large discrepancy in the cost of the electric service to its newer stores in South Carolina from the cost of the electric services provided to the first two stores opened there. After analyzing the service provided to its various stores and consulting with people very experienced in the utility industry, it was discovered that, though Parker's had, on the advice of SCE&G's representative, selected Rate 20 as the rate to use for its convenience stores, somehow, unbeknownst to Parker's, its third through eighth stores obtaining service from SCE&G (Stores 43, 48, 54, 55, 58 and 59) were placed on Rate 9 by SCE&G. Rate 9 is a much less economical and less cost-efficient rate for Parker's than the one Parker's had selected (Rate 20). SCE&G has even admitted that Rate 9 is the wrong rate for Parker's and that Rate 20 is the right rate and the one that will be used going forward.

SCE&G applying Rate 20 was done without express authorization by Parker's and without notification or warning by SCE&G. Moreover, it was done by SCE&G in complete disregard of the course of dealing between the parties, the history of the service at Parker's showing that Rate 20 was the best rate for Parker's, Parker's choice of Rate 20, and the requirements of SCE&G's Terms of Service and the laws of South Carolina.

In short, Parker's signed General Service Agreements for Stores 32 and 33 on which Parker's, in conjunction with the SCE&G assigned representative to assist, chose Rate 20. Then service was obtained from SCE&G for the subsequent stores (Stores 43, 48, 54, 55, 58 and 59) apparently without executed service agreements. Instead, there is only evidence that Applications for Service were used for only two of these stores, on which Parker's marked that it had "Other Active Accounts." These Applications do not state that a particular rate will be used unless a different rate is requested, and even if the customer may have already chosen a different rate in one of the "Other Active Accounts" and established it as the right rate. Further, even if that were the case (which it is not), the Applications do not even contain a place to request a rate or to change a rate that had already been chosen, so no meaningful ability to choose a rate is provided (along with a lack of any meaningful warning). The fact that Parker's, at the behest of the assigned SCE&G representative to assist had already chosen Rate 20, logically led Parker's to believe that Rate 20 was being used for all these stores.

Not only was the switch from Rate 20 to Rate 9 for the third and subsequent stores made without authority, direction or knowledge by Parker's (which had already selected Rate 20 as its Rate), the change was made without notice, warning or explanation by SCE&G. Instead, all the evidence, including recent statements by SCE&G representatives that Rate 20 is the correct rate for Parker's and will be used going forward, indicates that Rate 20 was to be used, and should have been used, for all these stores.

To date, SCE&G's claim that Parker's should have known that it was on the wrong rate relies on only two things. One of which is the monthly bill that is merely received by the accounting department so that it can be paid. The other is a spreadsheet SCE&G claims it created and dropped off at Parker's in or around August of 2015. (A copy of the August 2015 spreadsheet has previously been provided to the Office of Regulatory Service.) The spreadsheet shows a comparison of Store 48's usage on Rate 9 to Rate 20, and shows that rate 20 is a better rate for this store. However, SCE&G cannot show that this was actually delivered to the appropriate people at Parker's. In fact, evidence to the contrary exists because SCE&G claims that it dropped off this spreadsheet along with a contract for Store 48 that was never signed. Nevertheless, SCE&G relies on this and one unanswered telephone call to support its position that it no longer had a duty to notify Parker's of the fact that SCE&G had put it on a rate that was different from the one that it had chosen and one that SCE&G knew resulted in higher costs to Parker's.

The single unanswered telephone call is not enough to put anyone on notice of such a drastic and harmful change. Particularly because SCE&G had numerous contacts with Parker's over the years, including in-person meetings, yet it did not take any of those opportunities to notify Parker's that it was put on the wrong rate. Those failures include failures by SCE&G to attempt to notify Parker's at the time it opened and obtained service for the subsequent stores. Had SCE&G actually notified Parker's that it was put on Rate 9 (the rate SCE&G knew to be the wrong rate), Parker's would have immediately sought to have the rate corrected and a refund issued at that time rather than continuing to overpay for electric service. SCE&G had plenty of opportunities to do that and should have done so.

In summary, SCE&G violated its own Terms of Service and South Carolina law by disregarding Parker's selection of Rate 20 for its stores and, without direction or authorization from Parker's or providing notice to it, changing the rate to Rate 9 for Stores 43, 48, 54, 55, 58 and 59. A rate SCE&G has admitted to being the wrong rate for Parker's stores. Again, no choice was made by Parker's to use a different rate, and no warning was provided by SCE&G that the rate would be different without Parker's authorization. Moreover, if SCE&G's position is that the Customer has to pick the rate each time service is provided to a customer that has multiple locations with the same electrical needs, it should utilize contracts that give an option to choose a rate and warn the customer that some arbitrarily chosen rate will be used unless the customer directs otherwise for each of its accounts. Rather, that was not done and SCE&G disregarded: (i) Parker's selection of Rate 20, (ii) the clear usage history indicating that Rate 20 was the best rate for Parker's, (iii) SCE&G's Terms of Service, and (iv) South Carolina law when SCE&G unilaterally changed the rate for Parker's to Rate 9 for Stores 43, 48, 54, 55, 58 and 59. It does so while claiming that the burden is on the customer to make the selection of the rate but without affording the customer the opportunity to make such a choice on the documents it used, if any. Furthermore, Parker's did not know that it had to request help or advice from SCE&G for these stores because it thought that it was already receiving it from the SCE&G representative assigned to Parker's. The documents used (or not used), the lack of any real effort by SCE&G to notify Parker's that it was being put on rate 9, the relationship of trust and reliance created by SCE&G, and the current refusal to refund the overpayment without any real evidence supporting its position together indicates that this has been a willful overcharge by SCE&G subjecting the overcharges to adjustment under South Carolina Ann. Reg. § 103-340(2), including the imposition of interest and penalties.

The Company shall not be required to extend its distribution and service facilities, for the purpose of rendering electric service to the Customer until satisfactory rights-of-way, easements or permits have been obtained from governmental agencies and property owners, at the Customer's expense to permit the installation, operation, and maintenance of the Company's lines and facilities. The Customer, in requesting or accepting service, thereby grants the Company without charge necessary rights-of-way and trimming and clearing privileges for its facilities along, across, and under property controlled by the Customer to the extent that such rights-of-way and trimming and clearing privileges for its facilities along, across, and under property controlled by the Customer are required, necessary or convenient to enable Company to supply service to the Customer and the Customer also grants the Company the right to continue to extend the Company's facilities on, across, or under property controlled by the customer with necessary trimming and clearing rights to serve other Customers. Customer shall maintain such right-of-way so as to grant Company continued access to its facilities by Company's vehicles and other power-operated equipment.

D. Customer's Installation

Customer's service installations shall be made in accordance with these General Terms and Conditions, Specifications for Service and Meter Installations, existing provisions of the National Electrical Code, the Regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and such other regulations as may be promulgated from time to time by any municipal bureau or other governmental agency having jurisdiction over the Customer's installation or premises.

Customer's wiring and equipment must be installed and maintained in accordance with the requirements of the local, municipal, state, and federal authorities, and the Customer shall keep in good and safe repair and condition such wiring and equipment on Customer's side of the service point exclusive of Company's metering facilities and equipment.

Customer's service entrance requirements shall be stipulated in the Electric Service and Meter Installations Manual, and other manuals published by the Company and approved by the Commission.

Before wiring a premise or purchasing equipment, the Customers shall give the Company notice and shall ascertain from the Company the character of service available at such premises. The Company may specify the voltage and phase of the electricity to be furnished, the location of the meter, and the point where the service connection shall be made.

Customer's service entrance requirements shall be stipulated in the Electric Service and Meter Installations Manual, and other manuals published by the company and approved by the Commission.

It is the standard practice of the Company to provide all requirements of service for the Customer through a single metering point at each premises.

Where more than one service is required by the Customer, and requested services meet all applicable code requirements the Company will provide such additional service upon payment by the Customer to the Company of the charges above the first service. Each service point shall be a separate account. No new service will be connected without proper release from the inspecting authority having jurisdiction. Should there be no inspecting authority in the jurisdiction, the Company shall determine whether or not applicable codes are met and shall have no obligation to provide service until such time as they are met.

Customer shall furnish at his sole expense any special facilities necessary to meet his particular requirements for service at other than the standard conditions specified under the provision of the applicable Rate Schedule. The Customer shall also provide protection for Customer's equipment from conditions beyond the Company's control including, but not limited to, protective devices for single-phase conditions. The Customer shall also provide a suitable place, foundation and housing where, in the judgment of the Company, it is deemed necessary to install transformers, regulators, control or protective equipment on the Customer's premise.

All equipment supplied by the Company shall remain its exclusive property and Company shall have the right to remove the same from the premises of Customer at any time after termination of service for any cause.

Should Customer elect, for any reason, to request relocation of Company's facilities or take any action, which requires such relocation, customer may be required to reimburse the Company for all costs as a result of such relocation. Company may relocate existing service and facilities, at Company's expense, when necessary for system design or operation and maintenance requirements.

The Customer shall be responsible for the protection and safekeeping of the equipment and facilities of the Company while on the Customer's premises and shall not permit access thereto except by duly authorized representatives of the Company. Customer assumes responsibility and liability for damages and injuries caused by failure or malfunctions of Customer's equipment.

South Carolina Electric & Gas Company*Electric

Where a separate transformer or other additional electrical utility standard equipment or capacity is to be used to eliminate fluctuations or other effects detrimental to the quality of service to other Customers due to welding or X-ray equipment, etc., the Company may make a reasonable charge for the transformer equipment and line capacity required. In lieu of the above, the Company may require the Customer to either discontinue the operation of the equipment causing the disturbance or install the necessary motor generator set or other apparatus to eliminate the disturbance detrimental to the service of other Customers.

F. Safe Access to Customer's Premises

The duly authorized representatives of the Company shall be permitted safe access to Customer's premises at any and all reasonable times to inspect, operate and maintain the Company's and the Customer's facilities and equipment for any and all purposes connected with the delivery of service, the determination of connected load or other data to be used for billing purposes, the determination of Customer load requirements or the exercise of any and all rights under the agreement.

G. Company's Installation and Service

Where the Customer's requested service to be supplied by the Company does not produce revenue sufficient to support the expenditure required, the Company will determine in each case the amount of payment and form thereof that shall be required of the Customer.

Electricity supplied by the Company shall not be electrically connected with any other source of electricity without reasonable written notice to the Company and agreement by the parties of such measures or conditions, if any, as may be required for reliability of both systems.

Service supplied by the Company shall not be resold or assigned by the Company to others on a metered or unmetered basis; nor shall the Customer's wiring be connected to adjacent or other premises not owned or operated by the Customer without specific written approval of the Company and of the Commission.

The Company's service facilities will be installed above ground on poles or fixtures; however, underground facilities will be provided when requested in accordance with the Company's appropriate underground service publications.

In Areas of Overhead Distribution: The Company will install and maintain an overhead service drop for loads up to 500 KVA from its overhead distribution system to the Customer's service connection provided the transformer can be placed in the proximity of the service point. For residential Customers, if specifically requested by the Customer, the Company will install and maintain a single phase underground service to any residence (terrain permitting) provided the Customer pays in advance the difference in cost between a new overhead service and the new underground service of equal current carrying capacity.

In Areas of Underground Distribution: The Company will install and maintain the necessary underground facilities to provide a point of service at the Customer's property line or at another location designated by the Company. For residential Customers, the Company will install and maintain a single-phase service to the service point as designated by Company, up to a maximum length of 125 feet. If the requested residential service to Company's designated service point exceeds 125 feet in length, the Customer will pay in advance the total additional cost for that portion in excess of 125 feet in length. For underground service other than residential, the Customer shall furnish, install and maintain necessary service conductors and conduit from their service equipment to the Company's designated point of service regardless of meter location.

(Page 5 of 8)*H. Term of Contract

The Term of Contract for service shall be for a term of one year with automatic renewal except as otherwise provided in the applicable Rate Schedule. Where a large or special investment in service facilities is necessary, or other special conditions exist, contracts may be written for (1) a longer term than specified in the Rate Schedule, or (2) a special guarantee of revenue, or (3) a facility charge, or (4) all of these conditions as may be required to safeguard the Company's investment.

I. Continuance of Service and Liability Therefore

The Company does not guarantee continuous service. Company shall use reasonable diligence at all times to provide uninterrupted service but shall not be liable for any loss, cost damage or expense to any Customer occasioned by any failure to supply electricity according to the terms of the contract or by any interruption or reversal of the supply of electricity, if such failure, interruption or reversal is due to storm, lightning, fire, flood, drought, strike, or any cause beyond the control of the Company, or any cause except willful default or gross neglect on its part.

The Company reserves the right to curtail or temporarily interrupt Customer's service when it shall become necessary in order that repairs, replacement or changes may be made in the Company's facilities and equipment, either on or off Customer's premises.

The Company may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of service during peak periods of excessive demand or other difficulty, which jeopardizes the supply of service to any group of Customers.

The Company may waive any minimum charge or guarantee payments for service upon written notice from and request of Customer during such time as the Customer's plant may be completely closed down as a result of strike, lockout, government order, fire, flood, or other acts of God: provided however, that Customer specifically agrees that the term of the service contract shall be extended for a period equal to the period of enforced shutdown. (See Section VII, Force Majeure).

J. Denial or Discontinuance of Service

The Company may refuse or discontinue service and remove the property of the Company without liability to the Customer, or tenants or occupants of the premises served, for any loss, cost, damage or expense occasioned by such refusal, discontinuance or removal, including but not limited to, any of the following reasons:

1. In the event of a condition determined by the Company to be hazardous or dangerous.
2. In the event Customer's equipment is used in such a manner as to adversely affect the Company's service to others.
3. In the event of unauthorized or fraudulent use of Company's service.
4. Unauthorized adjustments or tampering with Company's equipment.

6. For failure of the Customer to permit the Company reasonable access to its equipment.
7. For nonpayment of bill for service rendered provided that the Company has made reasonable efforts to effect collection.
8. For failure of the Customer to provide the Company with a deposit.
9. For failure of the Customer to furnish permits, certificates, and rights-of-way, as necessary in obtaining service, or in the event such permissions are withdrawn or terminated.

F. Safe Access to Customer's Premises

The duly authorized representatives of the Company shall be permitted safe access to Customer's premises at any and all reasonable times to inspect, operate and maintain the Company's and the Customer's facilities and equipment for any and all purposes connected with the delivery of service, the determination of connected load or other data to be used for billing purposes, the determination of Customer load requirements or the exercise of any and all rights under the agreement.

G. Company's Installation and Service

In Areas of Overhead Distribution: The Company will install and maintain an overhead service drop for loads up to 500 KVA from its overhead distribution system to the Customer's service connection provided the transformer can be placed in the proximity of the service point. For residential Customers, if specifically requested by the Customer, the Company will install and maintain a single phase underground service to any residence (terrain permitting) provided the Customer pays in advance the difference in cost between a new overhead service and the new underground service of equal current carrying capacity.

In Areas of Underground Distribution: The Company will install and maintain the necessary underground facilities to provide a point of service at the Customer's property line or at another location designated by the Company. For residential Customers, the Company will install and maintain a single-phase service to the service point as designated by Company, up to a maximum length of 125 feet. If the requested residential service to Company's designated service point exceeds 125 feet in length, the Customer will pay in advance the total additional cost for that portion in excess of 125 feet in length. Company shall use reasonable diligence at all times to provide uninterrupted service but shall not be liable for any loss, cost damage or expense to any Customer occasioned by any failure to supply electricity according to the terms of the contract or by any interruption or reversal of the supply of electricity, if such failure, interruption or reversal is due to storm, lightning, fire, flood, drought, strike, or any cause beyond the control of the Company, or any cause except willful default or gross neglect on its part.

The Company reserves the right to curtail or temporarily interrupt Customer's service when it shall become necessary in order that repairs, replacement or changes may be made in the Company's facilities and equipment, either on or off Customer's premises.

The Company may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of service during peak periods of excessive demand or other difficulty, which jeopardizes the supply of service to any group of Customers.

The Company may waive any minimum charge or guarantee payments for service upon written notice from and request of Customer during such time as the Customer's plant may be completely closed down as a result of strike, lockout, government order, fire, flood, or other acts of God; provided however, that Customer specifically agrees that the term of the service contract shall be extended for a period equal to the period of enforced shutdown. (See Section VII, Force Majeure).

12. For failure of the Customer to comply with reasonable restrictions on the use of service. The Company may discontinue service without notice for reasons (1), (2), and (3) above. For the remainder of the reasons, the Customer shall be allowed a reasonable time in which to correct any discrepancy.

All such bills are to be paid in accordance with the standard payment terms, and are subject to adjustment on the basis of actual use of service as computed from the next reading taken by the Company's representative or for any circumstances known to have affected the quantity of service used.
